

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A meter provided with a concealed probe receiving deck includes a body of the meter, a housing, one end of the lid is pivoted to the body of the meter, a space of accommodation defined between the lid and the body when the 5 former covers upon the bottom of the body, and a probe receiving deck fixed to the bottom of the body of the meter; the deck containing a recess to receive both probes of the meter in position and a space defined by both sides of the recess to coil the cords attached to their respective probes.